

Flexible study in the MBA: guide for 2009-2010

Core units in the MBA are offered face-to-face during the week in Hobart (including some evening classes), fortnightly on Saturdays in Hobart and Launceston, and as flexible units (no face-to-face study required). The online enrolment page will allow you to choose a mode for each unit.

Domestic students can choose to study in whichever mode they prefer. This can include taking some units flexibly and some face-to-face, or all units in one mode.

International students can only take up to one quarter of their degree as flexible units. For the MBA, this means up to 3 flexible units, and for the MBAS, this means up to 4 flexible units for the entire degree. You must have at least one face-to-face unit in each compulsory semester (semester 1 and semester 2). However, if you are an international student who is not on a student visa, these rules do not apply, and you can follow the same guidelines as domestic students.
